

GOLFERS TROLL COURSE IN HOPE OF ENSNARING TRULY TERRIBLE MARAUDING MOSQUITO

PASKERT MAY BE SUSPENDED FOR MAKING PROTEST

Dode Waxed Rough With Hank O'Day—Phils in St. Louis Again

RIXEY DUE TO HURL

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 10.—Dode Paskert will probably draw a suspension for his run-in with Timpan Hank O'Day, after the latter called the Phils on strikes in the fourth inning of yesterday's frolic.

After being called out, Paskert turned to protest to O'Day that the pitch was wide and to the manager to direct him toward the Phils' bench. O'Day was in the path of the swing and to avoid striking the umpire, Paskert heaved the bat in the air, over Hank's head. Evidently believing that Paskert was trying to imitate Cobb, Evers and Kauff, who have recently done bat swinging acts, O'Day chased Paskert as he started across the field for the clubhouse. Dode continued his verbal protest at being banished.

"That's all right, you've done nothing wrong," shouted Manager Moran to Paskert.

"No, I guess I am the one to blame," cut in O'Day, and when Moran attempted to tell Hank what he thought of him, he was ordered to the bench. Wilbur Good finished the game in center field and it would not be surprising if O'Day does recommend Paskert's suspension.

The Phillies meet the Cardinals in the fourth and final game of their series this afternoon, and to get better than an even break it will be necessary for the Quakers to bag the last contest. It is probable that Manager Moran will pick Eppa Rixey to hurl against the St. Louisans. He will likely be opposed by Bob Steble, a young left-hander, or "Steamboat" Wilson, who finished yesterday's 8-6 victory for the Cardinals.

GRADUATION CLAIMS MANY STAR ATHLETES

Seven Out of Thirteen Winners at Intercollegiate End College Track Careers

Seven of the 13 athletes who won championships, and 11 of the 17 who won or tied for second place in the 1916 intercollegiate championships have graduated from their respective colleges.

Cornell lost more athletes by graduation than any other college track squad, but the Thacans also retained more good men than any other Eastern university. Cornell lost athletes who scored 23 of the 48 points in Potter, Hoffmire, Taylor, Gubb, Van Winkle and Corwith, and with them go Starr, McLaren, Millard and Beckwith, all point scorers in dual meets.

These vacancies leave openings to be filled by more or less ambitious athletes. The fellows who placed back in the rack may be champions next spring. The 1916 freshmen teams on the whole looked woefully weak, but by next year these same lads may gain in experience, and make the patrons forget the champions of today.

Kelly and Simpson to Compete

NEW YORK, July 10.—Fred Kelly, the California hurdler, and Ed Simpson, the Cornell hurdler, will compete in the 110-yard hurdle race at the annual meeting of the Amateur Athletic Union at the Madison Square Garden today.

TWO MORE OF CONNIE'S HOPES

PENN FOOTBALL MEN ORDERED TO REPORT SEPT. 11

Coach Folwell to Hold Preliminary Practice at Bucks County C. C., Lansdowne

ONLY FOUR PLAYERS LOST

The University of Pennsylvania will start football practice on September 11. This announcement, made by Coach Robert Folwell means that he is going to lose no time in getting a line on the Red and Blue talent for next fall. The squad has been ordered to report at Langhorne, Pa., on that date, and Coach Folwell and Assistant Coaches By Dickson and Dr. Charles Wharton will be there to give them the necessary care and instruction.

Only four men have been lost by graduation, Captain Ned Harris, Ed Russell, Jean Rockefeller and Mike Dorizas. Never in Pennsylvania's history have so many trained men been at the disposal of a coach. For his end positions, Folwell will have Miller, Urquhart, Hawley and Clothier; for the tackle, Captain Matthews, Bob Dunlop, Lou Little, Bill Robinson and Wirman; as guards, Henning, Neill and Withers; as centers, Wray, Roukauff and Eble; as quarterbacks, Loucks, Bell, Berry and Bryant; halfbacks, Ross, Derr, Dougherty, Light and Bretzwar, Gray, Williams and Bill Quigley are the leading candidates for the fullback position.

The practice will be held on the links of the Bucks County Country Club. The work at Franklin Field will be under the jurisdiction of Coaches Harold Gaston and Lon Jourdet. Folwell has stated that he will teach the old Pennsylvania system with the slight variations made necessary by the modern game. Penn men all over the world are watching to see if he can accomplish the task of hanging the Red and Blue colors high on the ramparts as did George Woodruff and Carl Williams.

Philadelphia Lodge Wins Title

The Philadelphia Lodge of the Jewish Union won the baseball championship of that organization by defeating the Standard Lodge 14 to 8, in an interesting game at Neabammy Falls yesterday afternoon. It was the feature of the athletic program held in conjunction with the annual outing of the Jewish Union. Fifteen teams, including Philadelphia and Standard, were in the contest. The Philadelphia team, composed of Philadelphia Standard, Dieroll and Morris Lodges, were at the Philadelphia. The Standard team, composed of the Union, had little trouble defeating the Philadelphia team in the first inning, but the score 14 to 8, the All-Stars decided that they were tired of making errors and running all over the lot for the ball. Wilder, who threw first in the Philadelphia game, struck out 14 men in seven innings, but his team was unable to score a run. Philadelphia Postoffice team, was his battery mate.

Hannibal Wins 22-Inning Game

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., July 10.—The longest baseball game of the season was played yesterday by Rock Island and Hannibal, of the Missouri League. Hannibal won by the score of 8 to 2 in the 22d inning. The game was one inning longer than the record endurance contest of the National League, in which New York defeated Pittsburgh by 8 to 1 at Pittsburgh on July 11, 1904. It lacked two innings of equalling the American League record of 24 innings, set by the New York Yankees when they overcame Boston, 4 to 1, in Boston on September 1, 1908.

Hydra Craft Is Victor Again

PORT WASHINGTON, N. J., July 10.—Charles Hyde again won the intercollegiate race of the Star Club, with his Hydra, when he defeated the other two over the triangular course of the Waterway, Y. C. in Manhattan Bay for six miles. There was a healthy breeze from the northeast, and the Hydra won by 3:50, finishing in one hour and a half.

The veterans defeated H. A. Emerson and Perry Williams, the challengers, 6-4, 3-6, 5-7, 6-1. Pull and Beck were the winners of the cups, as it was their third victory.

Later Kumagai and his partner, Akimasa, defeated the American pair, Emerson and Hardy, for the Central States doubles title. The scores were 6-1, 6-2, 6-1.

Jennings Donates Ball for Benefit

Arrangements have been completed for the ball game to be played between Girard F. C. and Overbrook next Saturday afternoon at 50th and Oxford streets, for the benefit of Jerry Wolfson, who is ill. Manager Hugh Jennings, of Detroit, has donated the baseballs for this game. Wolfson is a local lad, who received a treat with Detroit several seasons ago.

SCRAPS ABOUT SCRAPPERS

Tommy Jamison says he once heard somebody say history repeats itself. He was somewhat, but today the Scherzkill had declared "Pie" Way, of the Waterway, Y. C. in Manhattan Bay in the mid-up at the Broadway Club tonight. It will be a mid-up match between "Pie" Way and the former Y. C. star, who is sure he will reverse the result of their first meeting, when the Mack won by a 3-0.

MAN-EATING TIGER MOSQUITO, STARVED, MAKES MARAUDING TRIP INLAND; MAULS GOLFER

Bites Divot Out of Player and "Gums" Putt—Pros. Elect Officers—War Measure

TODAY'S TEE TALK

Discussion is renewed as to the danger of the mosquito in the case of some golfers, by the poisoning last week of Charles Andrus, 15-year-old boy, who bit into the neck of a mosquito while playing in his front yard, at Greenfield, Conn.

Four years ago, when the manufacture of putts was first begun, the United States Golf Association sent to all its members a warning that this kind was a dangerous insect.

It took a furious struggle before a nibble could be inserted between the jaws of the beast and it could be made to give up the divot of human flesh it had gouged from the thigh of the prostrate player.

The chincless man-eater suddenly rose in the air with a horrible cry of baffled hunger and flew off. The bloody and badly shaken golfer staggered to his feet.

"We want to write a piece for the paper," we cried, rushing toward him. "What is your name?"

"J. W. Jennings," answered the victim after a pause.

The golf course is now being trolled by motors with quarters of sheep as bait in the hope of snaring the terrible marauder. No reason could be found for the presence of this deadly species so far inland, except that sea bathers in Jersey have taken to the tub since the visit of sharks and the voracious mosquito was no doubt made despatch by the lack of food.

Perhaps we have exaggerated its size, but the fact remains that a mighty mosquito did break up the crucial Putt of Golfer Jennings on the 18th at Cobb's Creek the other day.

The Professional Golfers' Association had its first meeting at the Hotel Madison, Minneapolis, at the time of the open championship and elected James Thomson, of the Executive Committee of the southeastern section.

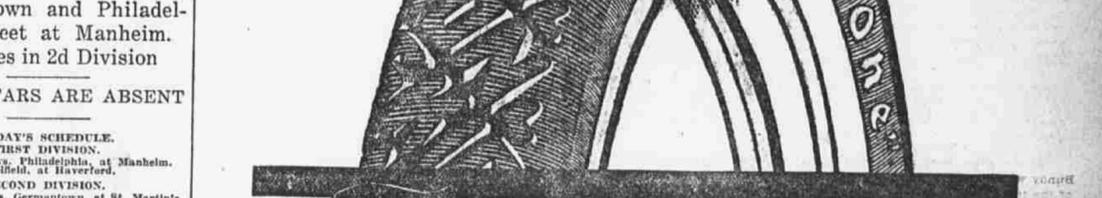

"Honest Jim" will do a lot to boost the professional end of golf in this section. He is pro at the Country Club.

Here is the entire list of officers and committees of the new organization:

President, Robert White; vice presidents, James Maiden and George Fotheringham; secretary and treasurer, Herbert Strong; Executive committees Metropolitan section—Robert White, James Maiden, Herbert Strong, Jack Robens, Gilbert Nichols, Jack Mackie, Willie Robertson and Thomas Kerrigan; Middle States section—George Fotheringham, S. Gardner, Jack Croke, Walter Fovargue, W. Marshall and D. Macintosh; Southeastern section—James R. Thomson, Edward Reid and William C. Byrne; New England section—M. J. Brady, C. J. McGrath and George Gordon; Central section—William V. Hoar, Western section—George Sargent, Pacific section—Charles G. Adams.

We believe it is worthy of mention that the Philadelphia Country Club was among the first of the local clubs to show its patriotism in the crisis with Mexico, now seemingly at rest.

Many members of the Country Club were called to the colors, and at a meeting of the committee it was decided that the dues of any member in the service of the country would be automatically suspended for that period.

Firestone Right Makes Might

NEVER have figures spoken more decisively than in the following table. They show the volume of business we have done annually since we moved into our new factory in 1910. And with this steady, consistent increase in sales has come a steady development in every producing unit. This factory, then the largest exclusive tire plant in America, has been tripled since, wing by wing, without disturbing production. Original plans provided for the growth because we knew that the standard set for Firestone quality would win the motoring public.

Simmered down the answer to this unequalled growth is exclusive quality at volume price
